1. INFLEX anti-recoil pad

This ultra-soft butt pad offers the best recoil absorption possible on a rifle. The design and proprietary material used allows the direction of the recoil forces to be deflected downward, thus slightly moving the butt away from the face to reduce the recoil and movement of the weapon upward.

2. Lock unlock button

The latch release button ensures ideal localized security ideally on the back of the pistol grip. Possibility to open in security position.

3. Falling loader
